A Very Warm Welcome to DGS Photography

Firstly, many congratulations to you both and thank you for allowing us to share our business with you! We are a very friendly, husband-&-wife team operating from our home in Chippenham.

Now – can you imagine your images from the WHOLE of your Day, along with HD Video and Photobooth, all presented to you like this:-

Bride & Groom's Wedding Shoot

This is what makes us different! We have been capturing weddings professionally and passionately now for well over a decade. Our well-renowned social skills now act as a priceless business commodity – not just to capture your day, but to help enhance it too!

“ To Dave & Chris – Thank you for working so hard to make the day so special for us. We never imagined that anyone could capture our feelings and happiness as well as you did! We really appreciate all of the time and effort you spent before, during and after the wedding and we wish you both all the very best for the future. – Many Thanks, Beren & Helen. ”

Our Philosophy on Capturing Your Special Day

Our own wedding day, way back in 1981, was a day we will always remember. So, we recognise the importance of your own wedding day, why it is truly deserving of all things special and how important our role is in capturing it. But, we also recognise that your wedding day does not start at the Service and then end straight after the Speeches! So, our philosophy starts off quite simple:

“ To ‘Capture Your Day in a Special Way’ can only ever be achieved by capturing absolutely everything throughout your Special Day! ”

This is always our initial approach to everyone's wedding – and that which separates us from most others. We believe that only “start-to-finish” attendance can ever give a true, complete and deserving representation of your Wedding Day.

Secondly – We use our experience to interact socially with you and your guests – as we strongly believe that:

“ Our renowned skills of ‘becoming part of your day’ are extremely important to help create a natural and relaxed atmosphere – especially in front of the lens! ”

You should be able to see from our wide-range of images online that, behind all of the different moods and poses captured, there are always warm, happy smiles waiting to escape! Capturing your wedding as naturally as possible – even during those posed shots – is absolutely vital to be able to create those special keepsakes which truly reflect your day and, in particular, the true characters of the people you shared it with. We honestly believe that this cannot be achieved just by simply having a “professional” approach or a specific style.

Thirdly – Images of you both and of your guests are absolutely vital! Of course, creating an album for you is essential too! And of course, online image upload is also important! – However, we also believe that your Special Day deserves more than just images. To us, capturing all those special moments on video is just as important. Our images create wonderful, passionate remarks – sometimes laughter or curiosity too – but our slow-motion video tracks have literally rendered prospective couples to tears!

“ ‘We can offer you a short, limited, image-only package ...’. Sorry, but we prefer ... affordable, ‘daybreak-to-midnight’, non-stop, unlimited image and video capture! ”

Our 3½-hour, double-DVDs contain numerous slideshows, HD & slow-motion video tracks and will “up the benchmark” for just about any other package around. If you can take time to view and study our sample DVD with us fully, you will soon realise that this could well be the ultimate keepsake for you to treasure!

Finally – Offering true “value-for-money” packages and pricing structures. Sometimes, the word “wedding” can have a very inflationary effect on prices! Promotions, Special Offers, Competitions etc, can also end up as adding unnecessary cost to everyone’s package price. Hence, our final philosophy is again, quite simple:

“ Keeping our overheads as low as possible to ensure that any ‘blanket’ charges are kept to an absolute minimum! ”

This allows us to then offer you unbelievable value-for-money. Being a home-based business, we avoid all the usual property overheads – including all the related ones too. We ask prospective couples to visit us for any consultation and any further visits from then on as well. 25 miles of travel is incorporated into all our packages – with any extras being charged to each specific customer at just 60p per mile. Our advertising is kept to a selective minimum – by mainly using Facebook and word-of-mouth for promotion – as opposed to full-scale advertising, website creation and its upkeep. All these savings can then be passed on to our customers in the form of value-for-money packages and products. This philosophy also allows us to commit hours of work to your products post-event – giving us chance to express our true passion into them by avoiding all the usual pressures.

Our Individual “Style”!

A lot of photographers will apply their own individual style or effects to your image collection. We prefer to keep our images traditional and as natural as possible – so that they are then suitable for all generations within your family and guests. However, our approach is to then apply any special effects to selective duplicate images – retaining the originals exactly as they were. Also, with the inclusion of numerous DVD slideshows in the packages, we are able to apply an abundance of styles to individual tracks – such as black-and-white, sepia, vintage, retro, ciné, etc –without even altering the original images. The link below will allow you to view a collection of these, our favourite images!

Our Fun Element

If you fancy adding a little fun into your event – look no further! As well as the Photobooth, our DVDs almost always contain a “fun” track which is put together using posed- and naturally-captured shots – depending on your preferred approach. The link below will show a few we’ve managed to capture over the years – helping to enhance the memories of their day even further!

The DGS Large-Format, “Open” Photobooth!

Our “Open” Photobooth was originally created for a School Prom, so that whole Tutor Groups could be captured in the same shot! The use of a large, black backdrop (14ft x 8ft), with a multitude of props to cope with the numbers, means that we can use “on-camera” flash – avoiding the need for any studio lighting set-up. We soon realised also that audiences could enjoy viewing the fun as it happened! So it became an instant success and we now use it for just about any type of social function – with the participants ranging from 1-year-olds to 90-year-olds! Please click on both links below to view numerous Wedding Collections and then enjoy a DVD track, imagine participating – and try not to smile too much!
